Social Maturity Curve

The higher the level, the more social engagement. Higher social engagement correlates with higher revenues or cost savings for the brand.

LISTEN

Learn about digital media through reading, seeking opinion, attending training sessions.

LEARN

Personally start using social media; stay on top of broader media changes in progress.

ENGAGE

Apply personal experiences to business needs; get started with social networks for brands, blogging, create new forms of content.

ANALYZE

Learn from successes and failures, begin to refine new practices that are delivering value to the communities they serve. Incorporate new ideas and strategic use of digital tools more often.

OPTIMIZE

Change how the brand/business operates to better serve customers (true CRM) and stakeholders; design and execute strategic programs that have measurable and sustained impact.

Sample benchmark results

Re-assess your brand on a regular basis to continue to build better and better strategies for social engagement.
